Orthopedic Urgent Care Provider

Physician Assistant Erin Lauer is passionate about providing personalized, patient-centered care when patients need it most. She focuses on educating patients, empowering them in their recovery and helping them return to the activities they love – ultimately supporting improved quality of life and positive long-term outcomes.

Erin was drawn to becoming a physician assistant due to the role's collaborative, patient-centered approach to care. Her interest in orthopedics grew from witnessing firsthand how musculoskeletal injuries can affect not only physical function but also independence and day-to-day life, making the opportunity to have an immediate, meaningful impact especially rewarding.

Erin earned her Master of Physician Assistant Studies from Kettering College in Kettering, Ohio, and her Bachelor of Health Science with a concentration in Integrative Physiology from the University of Dayton in Ohio. She is an active member of the American Academy of Physician Associates.
