Orthopedic Urgent Care Provider

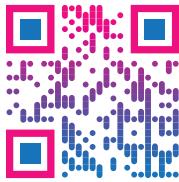

When you visit OrthoIndy Urgent Care, you'll be seen by experienced providers who understand bone, joint, spine, and muscle care – including Jennifer Pixley-Dawson, a physician assistant whose background in advanced orthopedic and sports medicine care truly sets her apart.

Before joining OrthoIndy, Jennifer cared for patients in both clinical and surgical settings and worked with athletes at every level – from high school to professional sports. She has served with the American Hockey League's Worcester Sharks, the Worcester Tornadoes baseball team and the Worcester Surge arena football team, as well as Harvard University, the University of Tennessee and several Boston-area schools, including Emmanuel College.

A dual-trained clinician, Jennifer holds master's degrees in physician assistant studies from the University of New England and athletic training from the University of Tennessee and is certified in both areas. She is an active member of Physician Assistants in Orthopaedic Surgery and the American Academy of Physician Associates (formerly known as the American Academy of Physician Assistants). Jennifer has also contributed to the profession by presenting and being published in the Journal of Athletic Training.

Outside of work, Jennifer enjoys staying active and is a four-time IRONMAN triathlete, drawing on the same level of focus and commitment she brings to caring for her patients in the urgent care clinic.
