

Jon Schroeder, PA-C

Orthopedic Urgent Care Provider

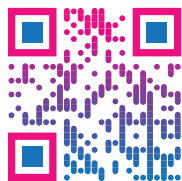

Senior Physician Assistant Jon Schroeder brings more than three decades of orthopedic experience to OrthoIndy, where he practices in orthopedic urgent care. Over the years, his broad scope of work has spanned orthopedic trauma and sports medicine (with an emphasis on knee and shoulder care) – giving him unique insight into how devastating injuries can be and how treatment can help patients return to the activities they love most. Known for his skill and compassion, Jon treats a wide range of patients, from elite athletes to children.

Jon is board-certified by the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA) and certified as an athletic trainer by the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA). He has served on medical teams for the Indiana Pacers, Indiana Fever and DePauw University Athletics. In addition, he shares his expertise as an adjunct professor at both DePauw University and Butler University.

Jon earned his physician assistant degree cum laude from the University of Kentucky, along with both his bachelor's and master's degrees with distinction from Indiana University. Outside of medicine, he treasures time with his grandchildren.
